Disability Discrimination Act (DDA)

YOU MUST COMPLY
BY 1ST OCTOBER 2004

The DDA stipulates that from the 1st October 2004 a disabled person cannot be restricted from gaining access to site to obtain goods or services and you must make reasonable adjustments to accommodate these requirements

This includes people who use wheelchairs. Blind and partially sighted people, deaf people, people with arthritis, people with long term illnesses and people with learning disabilities.

The act also covers people with severe disfigurements and in certain circumstances, people who have had a disability in the past.

This obviously has an impact on the installation of new and existing buildings and JFS Security have put together a range of DDA solutions to help you comply by the 1st October 2004

JFS Security can provide the complete service, from supply only to fully installed and maintained equipment
